WHY IS COLD WATER THERAPY SO POPULAR?

Cold plunging has become one of the fastest-growing wellness trends, used by athletes, recovery enthusiasts, and everyday spa owners alike. It is widely used to support recovery, performance, and overall wellbeing through targeted hydrotherapy. Users often report reduced muscle soreness and fatigue, faster post-activity recovery, improved circulation, and relief from swelling and inflammation. Many also experience enhanced mental clarity, focus, natural energy, and stress relief, along with greater resilience, stress adaptation, and a deeper sense of calm and balance over time.

Cold water therapy benefits are widely reported by users and wellness communities. Individual experiences may vary. Always consult a healthcare professional for medical concerns.

WATER CARE

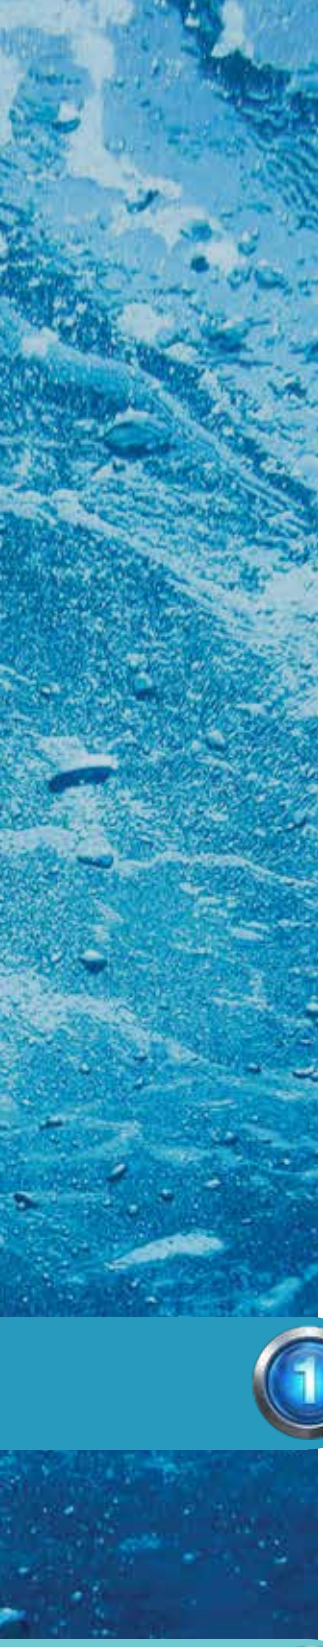

OZONE

Ozone is an EPA-approved antimicrobial oxidizer, sanitizer, and disinfectant that works to remove bacteria, viruses, and organic contaminants from your spa water. By breaking down oils, lotions, and other impurities, it helps maintain cleaner, clearer water for a healthier soaking experience. Using the latest technologies, the ozonator employs advanced corona discharge to generate ozone, which actively purifies the water, reduces odors, and lowers the need for chemical sanitizers, making spa maintenance easier and your water fresher and more inviting.

UV-C & OZONE

The sun naturally emits invisible ultraviolet light, and this powerful, purifying effect is recreated in your spa using advanced UV-C lamps. As water flows past the precisely focused wavelength, the UV-C light neutralizes bacteria, viruses, and other waterborne contaminants, rendering them harmless and helping maintain a higher level of water hygiene. When paired with ozone's oxidation of oils and organic impurities, the two systems work together to enhance overall water clarity and reduce reliance on chemical treatments. This process supports a cleaner, safer, and more enjoyable spa experience.

CLEAR™

STATE-OF-THE-ART WATER MANAGEMENT

The CLEAR™ System is one of the features that truly separates Clearwater Spas from other brands. When it comes to water care, most spa companies rely on ozone, and some add UV sanitation. But for many, that combination is where their purification system begins and ends. Clearwater Spas takes a completely different approach. The CLEAR™ System is a multi-stage water care system that combines several technologies working together to keep your spa water clean, clear, and natural-feeling while dramatically reducing the amount of chemicals you need. Instead of relying on a single sanitizer like chlorine, it uses multiple layers of protection that continuously work together to maintain water quality.

HOW IT WORKS

1 OZONE PURIFICATION

Ozone is a powerful natural oxidizer that continuously breaks down contaminants like body oils, cosmetics, and organic materials before they build up in the water. This reduces the workload on sanitizers and keeps the water cleaner between treatments.

2 UV-C & ADVANCED OXIDATION

After ozone, UV-C sanitization neutralizes pathogens by damaging their cellular structure so they cannot reproduce. Working with ozone, it creates Advanced Oxidation and produces hydroxyl radicals, powerful oxidizers that break down contaminants at a molecular level.

MINERAL IONIZATION (SILVER + COPPER)

A silver mineral cartridge releases ions that prevent bacteria from reproducing, while copper ionization uses a low-voltage current to disrupt algae and bacteria and stop them from multiplying. Together, they handle much of the sanitation, allowing the spa to use 50–80% less chlorine or bromine for reduced odor, less irritation, and a more natural soaking experience.

DUALL™ FILTRATION

A dedicated circulation pump runs 24 hours a day, moving water through dual filtration pathways so every drop is cleaned multiple times per hour. This captures both large debris and fine particles for crystal-clear water, while nano technology helps prevent organic growth in the filter between changes.

MAGNETIC WATER CONDITIONING

The final stage helps keep water cleaner and easier to maintain using powerful magnets that influence particle behavior without changing water chemistry. As water circulates, magnetic fields polarize water molecules and mineral ions, causing microscopic contaminants like bacteria, oils, lotions, and debris to clump together so the filtration system can remove them more easily. It also changes how calcium behaves, helping prevent it from sticking to heaters and plumbing so it can be filtered out instead. The result is clearer water, improved filtration, and reduced scale buildup on equipment.

SMARTER WATER CARE, CLEANER SOAKING

Instead of constantly managing chemicals and testing water, the spa does most of the work for you in the background. You get cleaner water, fewer chemicals, less maintenance, and a much more natural soaking experience. So when you step into the spa, you're not thinking about water chemistry... you're just relaxing and enjoying it.
